

iPhone

Before using iPhone, review the user guide—including "Safety, handling, and support"—at support.apple.com/guide/iphone. Retain documentation for future reference.

Exposure to Radio Frequency

On iPhone, go to Settings > General > Legal & Regulatory > RF Exposure. Or go to regulatoryinfo.apple.com/rfexposure.

Battery

The battery should only be repaired by a trained technician to avoid battery damage, which could cause overheating, fire, or injury.

Class 1 Laser Information

This device is classified as a Class 1 Laser product per IEC 60825-1 Ed. 3. This device complies with 21 CFR 1040.10 and 1040.11, except for conformance with IEC 60825-1 Ed. 3, as described in Laser Notice No. 56, dated May 8, 2019. Caution: This device contains one or more lasers. Use other than as described in the user guide, repair, or disassembly may cause damage, which could result in hazardous exposure to infrared laser emissions that are not visible. This equipment should be serviced by Apple or an authorized service provider.

Hearing Aid Compatibility (HAC)

Go to apple.com/support/hac, or see "Use hearing devices" in the iPhone User Guide.

Avoid Hearing Damage

To prevent possible hearing damage, do not listen at high volume levels for long periods. More information about sound and hearing is available online at apple.com/sound.

Medical Device Interference

iPhone contains magnets as well as components and/or radios that may interfere with medical devices. See "Important safety information" in the iPhone User Guide.

Regulatory

Regulatory certification information is available on-device. Go to Settings > General > Legal & Regulatory.

Disposal and Recycling Information

The crossed-out wheelie-bin symbol means your product and/or battery must be disposed of separately from household waste, in accordance with local laws and regulations. When they reach their end of life, take them to a retail store or collection point designated by local authorities, free of charge. Separate collection and recycling helps conserve natural resources and recycle in a manner that protects human health and the environment. For information about Apple's recycling program, collection points, restricted substances, and environmental initiatives, visit apple.com/environment.

Apple One-Year Limited Warranty Summary

Apple warrants the included hardware product and accessories against defects in materials and workmanship for one year from the date of original retail purchase. Apple does not warrant against normal wear and tear, nor damage caused by accident or abuse. To obtain service, call Apple or visit an Apple Store or an Apple Authorized Service Provider—available service options are dependent on the country in which service is requested and may be restricted to the original country of sale. Call charges and international shipping charges may apply, depending on the location. Subject to the full terms and detailed information on obtaining service available at apple.com/legal/warranty and support.apple.com, if you submit a valid claim under this warranty, Apple will either repair, replace, or refund your hardware device at its own discretion. Warranty benefits are in addition to rights provided under local consumer laws. You may be required to furnish proof of purchase details when making a claim under this warranty.
